

UHC 2030

Time to get our act together on health emergencies and universal health coverage

Event: Wednesday 27 May 2020
14.00 – 15:30 CET

In collaboration with the Global Health Centre, Graduate Institute for International and Development Studies, Geneva.

Join us for the launch of the UHC2030 discussion paper on COVID-19, UHC and emergency preparedness: 'Towards a shared vision for equitable and resilient health systems, and priority actions for both emergency preparedness and UHC goals'.

The COVID-19 crisis is a sharp reminder that everyone, everywhere should have access to quality and affordable health services. Following ministers' of health deliberations on the response to the COVID-19 pandemic during the World Health Assembly on 18-19 May, please join UHC2030 partners to discuss the way forward for a shared vision on health systems.

Speaking:

Muhammad Pate, Global Director, Health, Nutrition and Population Global Practice of the World Bank and Director of the Global Financing Facility for Women, Children and Adolescents (GFF)

Agnes Soucat, Director for Health Systems Governance and Financing, World Health Organization (WHO)

Francesca Colombo, Head of the Health Division, Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD)

Midori de Habich, Economist, Former Peru's health minister

Githinji Gitahi, Global CEO of AMREF Health Africa and Co-Chair of the UHC2030 Steering Committee

Anamaria Bejar, Director of advocacy, International Planned Parenthood Federation (IPPF)

Moderated by Ilona Kickbusch, Chair, International Advisory Board of the Global Health Centre and Co-Chair of the UHC2030 Steering Committee

Register here