67% of participating DPs support South-South cooperation.

PRIVATE SECTOR ENGAGEMENT

The private sectors were still minimally involved in the health policy process.

They are not equal and active in the policy making, some associations have more priorities than others.

Budget for the PS associations is very limited and most from the international support.

The professional associations have limited rights or power to have accreditation, certification or regulation, they are not allowed to give any licenses.

The participation of association(s) depends on the attention and priorities given by of the government/managing agencies.
